The Indian Statistical Institute is now a member of the Shastri Indo-Canadian Institute (SICI), a binational organization, that promotes understanding between India and Canada through academic activities and exchanges. It acts as a bi-national network of leading academic institutions in generating linkages, collaborations and information flow between scholars and Institutions in both India and Canadian terms of different fellowships offered by both governments. SICI membership brings forth several benefits and opportunities to the faculty and students of ISI. These are as follows;

- ❖ Student fellowships/ internships intended to encourage young scholars/ students.
- ❖ Opportunities for exposure in an international academic and research setting which brings lifelong benefits to the individual trainees.
- ❖ Doctoral/ Post-Doctoral/ Student fellowship provides an excellent opportunity for the researchers to serve as a medium whereby intellectual exchange can be the basis for cultural connection.
- ❖ Mobility programme designed for senior academicians/ educational administrators which provides an opportunity for personal enrichment and professional development.
- ❖ Institutional Collaborative Research grants to encourage and promote collaborative research and development between Indian and Canadian Institutions in the areas in which Indian Institutions can gain and develop.
- ❖ Support for academic activities such as seminars, conferences and workshops in areas of interest.
